Hemp Proclamation

Frank Cook
1997

The time has come to grow hemp whenever and wherever you can! May you come to know hemp through the silkiness of its oil. Where its cloth. Learn its story. Then you will know that the time for hemp has come.! Spring soon come. Time to put them babies in the ground. Pick out your seeds for change. Plant some tightly, others widely. Some for fabric, others for medicine. Plant them wild. Plant them close to home. It is time for us to step into abundance

Feed, clothe, heal, love your family! Have no fear, many are here. Hear? Look around. Gather together to plant the seeds. A hundred of us. Each a cup full. Walk about. Plant them down. Many a fallow field abound.

One season of hemp will provide the energy to meet all our needs. Comprende, Amigo? No need to worry. Have faith in equal energy exchange. Work for the good, the kind, the Gaia, the ONE. It was fun while it lasted, but let us change reality. One seed at a time. Plant them seeds and learn a way to sow the future. Are you ready? Praise be. Breathe deeply. We are known for our deeds. Please do plant them seeds. Together we are everywhere. We grow strong. I and I
